Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Monthly Bulletin of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, 1917, Vol. 22 More than 15,000 books have now been received by the Library to be sent to the camp libraries. The books are sent out almost as fast as they are received-to Camp Lee, Camp Sevier and Camp Hancock. Reports from the camp librarians show that the men are eager for these books. The call comes constantly for more. An article in the Library Journal for November, entitled Library war service, describes the organization and progress of this work throughout the country. The following paragraph from it not only shows that the books are appreciated, but also may suggest to our contributors the kind of books for which there is the most need. The reports show also that the men crave something more than merely recreative reading; they want books on motor cars, gasoline engines, air-planes, and submarines; war manuals, and strangely enough, poetry. [This isn't strange, however, to those familiar with the demands of the Tommies at the front.] About the Publisher Forgotten Books...
